

Letter of Apology

Pleasant day Mr. Thompson,

I am writing this apology due to my incapability to complete my Final Project as planned. Truth and in fact I wish I had the time to complete it, however; that doesn't seem possible at this time. Reason being right after I completed the Language and Content Examination, I landed a job at a new Software Development Business. This granted me the opportunity to work on multiple projects, which resulted in my project incompleteness and immense pressure on my laptop causing it to malfunction, also truth be told it is not easy learning multiple programming languages. I was one of the first employees selected to take on the role of working in App Division which comes with a lot of responsibility. The project I am currently working on for a client is due to be launched before the end of this year, the app is similar to my project it is a Rideshare application name Swiphly. Because of this sudden deadline I have to be working overtime, hence; the lack of completion. I do sincerely apologize for the insufficient work done and hope for your pardon for a passing grade.

Wishing you a Happy Holiday and Prosperous New Year.

With Thanks,

Joey Williamson
